Dear Folks,

I am well, happy, and safe and I hope you all are the same.

I received a couple of Birthday cards from Bib and Rosemarie and although they're a little late, they are still welcome.

I didn't receive any packages or letters from Vince or Mr. Morgan yet but I'm still sweating them out.

You gave me the name of a fellow whom you said was in my outfit but you neglected to tell me what part of the outfit. I don't know whether you mean my division, regiment, or my company. Please let me know.

Well, that's the end of this communique so I'll close now.

Love + kisses

P.S.

Just as I finished writing the first part of this letter and put it in its envelope, who should pay me a visit but the mailman with a letter from Vince. That was the first letter I received from him and I certainly was happy to hear from him.

He thought I was in France when I was back in Africa so I had to write him a letter to set him straight.

Well, this is really the end of this document so I'll sign off once again with Love to all
